Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments, filed 05/09/05, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-7 and 9-11 under 102(a) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Itoh.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1,3,9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Itoh (2002/0030993) and further in view of Ida et al (5,666,172).

Itho discloses the claimed invention except for the recitation and a plurality of fixing elements for detachable connection of the bottom frame to the top frame. Itoh discloses at least an optical sheet and a diffusion plate fixed to a backside of a display panel, the optical sheet (not shown) and the diffusion plate (3) forming an upper module with the display panel (figs 2, 9, 10, pp. 0038), a top frame for accommodating and fixing the upper module (expanded view in figure 9 clearly shows a top frame member, figures 2 and 10 show the upper frame member fixing the upper module), a bottom frame (4) positioned below the upper module and fixed to the top frame (fig 2, shows the top frame and bottom frame fixed to each other), a plurality of lamps positioned within the bottom frame (1); the bottom frame comprises a reflecting sheet surrounding the lamps (2).; the lamps are cold cathode fluorescent lamps (pp.0038).

- Although Itoh does not specifically recite “the backlight unit is capable of changing the lamps within the bottom frame after removal of the upper module above the bottom frame”, the applicant is advised that it has been held that the recitation that an element is “capable of” performing a function is not a positive limitation, but only requires the ability to so perform. It does not constitute a limitation in any patentable sense. In re Hutchison, 69 USPQ 138. It appears as shown in figures 2 and 10 that Itoh is capable of having the lamps changed by means of removal of the front module to access the lamps in the bottom frame. Ida discloses a plurality of fixing elements positioned in the top frame and the bottom frame for detachable connection of the bottom frame to the top frame (523, 853). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to implement the fixing members of Ida et al in the device of Itoh et al to provide Itoh with a detachable means for fixing the top and bottom frame members to each other to facilitate accessibility to inner working components of the device.
- With regards to the lamps comprising external electrode fluorescent lamps, Itoh discloses that a hot cathode tube lamp or the like may be used at the light source of the device. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use external electrode fluorescent lamps since external electrode fluorescent lamps are old and well known in the art for their use in backlit displays for the purpose of providing a light source that is cost efficient and facilitates detachment from an electrical connecting structure of the device (for teaching also see previously cited reference Adachi).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 2,4,6,8 and 10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art cited does not teach, the optical sheet comprises at least a diffuser sheet and a prism sheet, a plurality of buffer sheets positioned on portions of surfaces contacting with the lamps, the top frame comprises a plurality of fixing elements for fixing the optical sheet and the diffusion plate to the backside of the display panel; the fixing elements comprise screws, a clip positioned at an external electrode of the fluorescent lamps.
